

Breakout ! Susan Hollar RDI For parents of children preschool through elementary. Dynamic Learning through RDI. We will discuss the strategies of “descriptive language” and “framing for success.” We can build interactive relational problem solvers in our children through activities easily done in the home setting by parents. We will review videos and practice with each other. Take home handouts of strategies and activities will be provided.

Breakout 2: Susan Hollar RDI For parents of older children (middle school through adult) who often pose more challenges for social engagement. We will discuss “spotlighting” and “mindfulness” as strategies for this population. Learn what you can do at home on a daily basis to “grow” your child’s perspective taking and social engagement. Move them from isolation to engagement with others. We will review videos and practice in this group setting. Take home handouts of strategies and activities will be provided.

Breakout 3: Susan Hollar, RDI -- For teachers/professionals Using RID strategies in the classroom. We can support flexible thinking and development of perspective taking through everyday actions in the classroom. View videos and go home with specific strategies that are effective for your classroom. Take home handouts and strategies will be provided.
